Technology

Please make sure that your student/s turn their computers off and then restart them each night before they go to bed. The updates for our TUSD computers go out during the night. Restarting the computers each night will help us avoid some of the tech problems that can occur if computers do not receive the updates.

Also, please make sure that your student/s keep their laptop/s charged. This will also help avoid technology disruptions. Thank you so much for your help!

Robocalls – You may have received the following message from TUSD today.

“This is to inform you that starting this afternoon (Friday, Dec. 4) we will begin sending end-of-day Robocalls when students are marked absent for one or more of their class Zoom sessions. This additional communication is based on feedback from Teachers and Parents and is designed to notify you about your child’s engagement in remote instruction.”

Our Borman parents and guardians will not receive Robocalls. Borman teachers will continue to check in with you regarding student absences. The Robocalls will not go out to our Borman parents and guardians due to our military culture. When parents are deployed, it is very difficult for them to receive these Robocalls.

If your student/s will not be in school, please contact the teacher and the office. This will cut down on the number of calls that you receive from Borman. Thanks so much!**

Principal’s Note – I hope that you and your family are well and staying safe. Our Borman team sends you best wishes for a safe and happy Winter Break!

Take good care,

Kathy Sisler
